

SUPREME COURT OF PENNSYLVANIA

William Havens v. Workers' Compensation Appeal Board (CNA Financial Corporation)

No. 151 MAL 2018, 152 MAL 2018, Supreme Court of Pennsylvania (August 7, 2018)

SUMMARY

The Pennsylvania Supreme Court denied a petition for allowance of appeal in a workers' compensation case, leaving the Commonwealth Court's decision undisturbed. The per curiam order did not address the underlying merits. This case involves workers' compensation law and the denial of discretionary appellate review.

CASE DETAILS

COURT	Supreme Court of Pennsylvania
JURISDICTION	Pennsylvania
DECIDED	August 7, 2018
DOCKET	151 MAL 2018, 152 MAL 2018
DISPOSITION	writ_denied
PROCEDURAL POSTURE	Petition for Allowance of Appeal from the Order of the Commonwealth Court
PRECEDENTIAL VALUE	Published
PARTIES	William Havens v. Workers' Compensation Appeal Board (CNA Financial Corporation)

TOPICS

appellate jurisdiction workers compensation appellate procedure

PRACTICE AREAS

workers' compensation

PROCEDURAL HISTORY

Petitioner sought allowance of appeal from a Commonwealth Court order. The Supreme Court of Pennsylvania denied the petition.

DISPOSITION

writ_denied

OPINION

Havens, W. v. WCAB (CNA Financial Corp)

PER CURIAM.

IN THE SUPREME COURT OF PENNSYLVANIA

MIDDLE DISTRICT

WILLIAM HAVENS, : No. 151 MAL 2018

Petitioner : : Petition for Allowance of Appeal from : the Order of the Commonwealth Court v. :
WORKERS' COMPENSATION APPEAL : BOARD (CNA FINANCIAL : CORPORATION), :
Respondent :

WILLIAM HAVENS, : No. 152 MAL 2018

Petitioner : : Petition for Allowance of Appeal from : the Order of the Commonwealth Court v. :
WORKERS' COMPENSATION APPEAL : BOARD (CNA FINANCIAL : CORPORATION), :
Respondent :

ORDER

PER CURIAM

AND NOW, this 7th day of August, 2018, the Petition for Allowance of Appeal is DENIED.