4 UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT

5 NORTHERN DISTRICT OF CALIFORNIA

6 7 BRIAN MOFFITT, Case No. 22-cv-04852-JD 8 Plaintiff,

ORDER RE SERVICE

v. 9 10 D. WINSLOW, et al., Defendants. 11 12 13 Plaintiff, a state prisoner, filed a pro se civil rights complaint under 42 U.S.C. § 1983. The 14 original complaint was dismissed with leave to amend and plaintiff filed an amended complaint.

15 DISCUSSION

16 STANDARD OF REVIEW

17 Federal courts must engage in a preliminary screening of cases in which prisoners seek 18 redress from a governmental entity or officer or employee of a governmental entity. 28 U.S.C. 19 § 1915A(a). In its review, the Court must identify any cognizable claims, and dismiss any claims 20 which are frivolous, malicious, fail to state a claim upon which relief may be granted, or seek 21 monetary relief from a defendant who is immune from such relief. Id. at 1915A(b)(1),(2). Pro se 22 pleadings must be liberally construed. Balistreri v. Pacifica Police Dep’t, 901 F.2d 696, 699 (9th

23 Cir. 1990).

24 Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 8(a)(2) requires only “a short and plain statement of the 25 claim showing that the pleader is entitled to relief.” Although a complaint “does not need detailed 26 factual allegations, . . . a plaintiff’s obligation to provide the ‘grounds’ of his ‘entitle[ment] to 27 relief’ requires more than labels and conclusions, and a formulaic recitation of the elements of a 1 the speculative level.” Bell Atlantic Corp. v. Twombly, 550 U.S. 544, 555 (2007) (citations 2 omitted). A complaint must proffer “enough facts to state a claim to relief that is plausible on its 3 face.” Id. at 570. The United States Supreme Court has explained the “plausible on its face” 4 standard of Twombly: “While legal conclusions can provide the framework of a complaint, they 5 must be supported by factual allegations. When there are well-pleaded factual allegations, a court 6 should assume their veracity and then determine whether they plausibly give rise to an entitlement 7 to relief.” Ashcroft v. Iqbal, 556 U.S. 662, 679 (2009). 8 To state a claim under 42 U.S.C. § 1983, a plaintiff must allege that: (1) a right secured by 9 the Constitution or laws of the United States was violated, and (2) the alleged deprivation was 10 committed by a person acting under the color of state law. West v. Atkins, 487 U.S. 42, 48 (1988). 11 legal claims

12 LEGAL CLAIMS

13 Plaintiff alleges that he received inadequate medical care and was denied a lower bunk. 14 Deliberate indifference to serious medical needs violates the Eighth Amendment’s proscription 15 against cruel and unusual punishment. Estelle v. Gamble, 429 U.S. 97, 104 (1976); McGuckin v. Smith, 974 F.2d 1050, 1059 (9th Cir. 1992), overruled on other grounds, WMX Technologies, Inc. v. Miller, 104 F.3d 1133, 1136 (9th Cir. 1997) (en banc). A determination of “deliberate 18 indifference” involves an examination of two elements: the seriousness of the prisoner’s medical 19 need and the nature of the defendant’s response to that need. Id. at 1059. 20 A serious medical need exists if the failure to treat a prisoner’s condition could result in 21 further significant injury or the “unnecessary and wanton infliction of pain.” Id. The existence of 22 an injury that a reasonable doctor or patient would find important and worthy of comment or 23 treatment, the presence of a medical condition that significantly affects an individual’s daily 24 activities, or the existence of chronic and substantial pain are examples of indications that a 25 prisoner has a serious need for medical treatment. Id. at 1059-60. 26 A prison official is deliberately indifferent if he or she knows that a prisoner faces a 27 substantial risk of serious harm and disregards that risk by failing to take reasonable steps to abate 1 facts from which the inference could be drawn that a substantial risk of serious harm exists,” but 2 also “must also draw the inference.” Id. If a prison official should have been aware of the risk, 3 but did not actually know, the official has not violated the Eighth Amendment, no matter how 4 severe the risk. Gibson v. County of Washoe, 290 F.3d 1175, 1188 (9th Cir. 2002). “A difference 5 of opinion between a prisoner-patient and prison medical authorities regarding treatment does not 6 give rise to a § 1983 claim.” Franklin v. Oregon, 662 F.2d 1337, 1344 (9th Cir. 1981). In 7 addition, “mere delay of surgery, without more, is insufficient to state a claim of deliberate 8 medical indifference.... [Prisoner] would have no claim for deliberate medical indifference unless 9 the denial was harmful.” Shapely v. Nevada Bd. Of State Prison Comm’rs, 766 F.2d 404, 407 (9th 10 Cir. 1985).

11 Plaintiff states that he suffers from severe lower back pain and has difficulty climbing to 12 his top bunk. Defendant Dr. Winslow was his primary care physician for sixteen months but 13 denied proper treatment including denying an orthopedic consultation. In addition, defendant 14 denied plaintiff a lower bunk, despite the pain and difficulty in climbing to a top bunk. These 15 allegations are sufficient to proceed against Dr. Winslow.

16 CONCLUSION

17 1. The Court orders that defendant Dr. D. Winslow be served ELECTRONICALLY 18 at San Quentin State Prison. All other defendants are DISMISSED. 19 Service on the listed defendant will be effected via the California Department of Corrections and Rehabilitation's (CDCR) e-service program for civil rights cases from prisoners in CDCR custody. CDCR also will provide a copy of the CDCR Report of E-Service Waiver to the California Attorney General's Office which, within 21 days, will file with the Court a waiver of service of process for the defendant if he is waiving service. Upon receipt of the CDCR Report of E-Service Waiver, the Clerk is requested to prepare for each defendant who has not waived service according to the CDCR Report of E-Service Waiver a USM-205 Form. The Clerk will provide to the USMS the completed USM-205 forms and copies of this order, the summons and the operative complaint for service upon each defendant who has not waived service. The Clerk will also provide to the USMS a copy of the CDCR Report of E-Service Waiver. 2. To expedite the resolution of this case, the Court orders: a. No later than sixty days from the date of service, defendant will file a motion for summary judgment or other dispositive motion. The motion will be supported by adequate factual documentation and will conform in all respects to Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 56, and will include as exhibits all records and incident reports stemming from the events at issue. If defendant is of the opinion that this case cannot be resolved by summary judgment, he will so inform the Court prior to the date his summary judgment motion is due. All papers filed with the Court will be promptly served on the plaintiff. b. At the time the dispositive motion is served, defendant will also serve, on a separate paper, the appropriate notice or notices required by Rand v. Rowland, 154 F.3d 952, 953-954 (9th Cir. 1998) (en banc), and Wyatt v. Terhune, 315 F.3d 1108, 1120 n. 4 (9th Cir. 2003). See Woods v. Carey, 684 F.3d 934, 940-941 (9th Cir. 2012) (Rand and Wyatt notices must be given at the time motion for summary judgment or motion to dismiss for nonexhaustion is filed, not earlier); Rand at 960 (separate paper requirement). c. Plaintiff's opposition to the dispositive motion, if any, will be filed with the Court and served upon defendant no later than thirty days from the date the motion was served upon him. Plaintiff must read the attached page headed "NOTICE -- WARNING," which is provided to him pursuant to Rand v. Rowland, 154 F.3d 952, 953-954 (9th Cir. 1998) (en banc). If defendant files a motion for summary judgment claiming that plaintiff failed to exhaust his available administrative remedies as required by 42 U.S.C. § 1997e(a), plaintiff should take note of the attached page headed "NOTICE -- WARNING (EXHAUSTION)," which is provided to him as required by Wyatt v. Terhune, 315 F.3d 1108, 1120 n. 4 (9th Cir. 2003). d. If defendant wishes to file a reply brief, they will do so no later than fifteen 6 || days after the opposition is served upon him. 7 e. The motion will be deemed submitted as of the date the reply brief is due. 8 No hearing will be held on the motion unless the Court so orders at a later date. 9 3. All communications by plaintiff with the Court must be served on defendant, or 10 || defendant's counsel once counsel has been designated, by mailing a true copy of the document to 11 defendant or defendant's counsel. 12 4. Discovery may be taken in accordance with the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure. 13 No further Court order under Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 30(a)(2) is required before the 14 || parties may conduct discovery. 15 5. It is plaintiffs responsibility to prosecute this case. Plaintiff must keep the Court a 16 || informed of any change of address by filing a separate paper with the clerk headed "Notice of 3 17 Change of Address." He also must comply with the Court's orders in a timely fashion. 1 NOTICE -- WARNING (SUMMARY JUDGMENT)

2 If defendants move for summary judgment, they are seeking to have your case dismissed. 3 A motion for summary judgment under Rule 56 of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure will, if 4 granted, end your case.

5 Rule 56 tells you what you must do in order to oppose a motion for summary judgment.

6 Generally, summary judgment must be granted when there is no genuine issue of material fact-- 7 that is, if there is no real dispute about any fact that would affect the result of your case, the party 8 who asked for summary judgment is entitled to judgment as a matter of law, which will end your 9 case. When a party you are suing makes a motion for summary judgment that is properly 10 supported by declarations (or other sworn testimony), you cannot simply rely on what your 11 complaint says. Instead, you must set out specific facts in declarations, depositions, answers to 12 interrogatories, or authenticated documents, as provided in Rule 56(e), that contradict the facts 13 shown in the defendant's declarations and documents and show that there is a genuine issue of 14 material fact for trial. If you do not submit your own evidence in opposition, summary judgment, 15 if appropriate, may be entered against you. If summary judgment is granted, your case will be 16 dismissed and there will be no trial.

17 NOTICE -- WARNING (EXHAUSTION)

18 If defendants file a motion for summary judgment for failure to exhaust, they are seeking 19 to have your case dismissed. If the motion is granted it will end your case. 20 You have the right to present any evidence you may have which tends to show that you did 21 exhaust your administrative remedies. Such evidence may be in the form of declarations 22 (statements signed under penalty of perjury) or authenticated documents, that is, documents 23 accompanied by a declaration showing where they came from and why they are authentic, or other 24 sworn papers, such as answers to interrogatories or depositions. 25 If defendants file a motion for summary judgment for failure to exhaust and it is granted, 26 your case will be dismissed and there will be no trial. 27
