12 NICOLE ROSE LOMIS STIPULATED PROTECTIVE

ORDER

13 Plaintiffs, 14 v. 15 MEDTRONIC, INC.; and DOES 1 through 100, 16 Defendants. 17 18 19 20

INTRODUCTION

21 Discovery in this action is likely to involve production of confidential, 22 proprietary, or private information for which special protection from public 23 disclosure and from use for any purpose other than prosecuting this litigation may 24 be warranted. Accordingly, the parties hereby stipulate to and petition the Court to 25 enter the following Stipulated Protective Order. 26
The parties acknowledge that this Order does not confer blanket protections 27 on all disclosures or responses to discovery and that the protection it affords from 1 entitled to confidential treatment under the applicable legal principles. The parties 2 further acknowledge that this Stipulated Protective Order does not entitle them to 3 file confidential information under seal; Civil Local Rule 79-5 sets forth the 4 procedures that must be followed and the standards that will be applied when a party 5 seeks permission from the court to file material under seal. Specifically, under Civil 6 Local Rule 79-5, the parties acknowledge that if any party seeks to file under seal 7 any Protected Material it must comply with Civil Local Rule 79-5. Protected 8 Material may only be filed under seal pursuant to a court order authorizing the 9 sealing of the specific Protected Material at issue. If a Party's request to file 10 Protected Material under seal is denied by the court, then the Receiving Party may 11 file the information in the public record unless otherwise instructed by the court. 12 Good cause exists to support the entry of this protective order.

Plaintiffs' 13 Complaint alleges that Plaintiffs were damaged by the wrongful death of Decedent, 14 Erik Lomis ("Decedent"). SAC ¶ 1. Plaintiffs further allege that a manufacturing 15 defect present in the Medtronic Evera™ XT DR DDBB1D4 ("the Device") 16 implanted in Decedent caused the event. Id. ¶ 2. As such, discovery in this action 17 will necessarily include disclosure of Decedent's confidential health records as well 18 as trade secrets, valuable research and development information, and other financial, 19 technical, and proprietary information related to the Device for which special 20 protection from public disclosure and from use for any purpose other than 21 prosecution of this action is warranted. See, e.g., United States ex rel. Dan Abrams 22 Co. LLC v. Medtronic, Inc., No. 215CV01212JAKASX, 2021 WL 5113487, at *1 23 (C.D. Cal. Nov. 3, 2021). Accordingly, to expedite the flow of information, to 24 facilitate the prompt resolution of disputes over confidentiality of discovery 25 materials, to adequately protect information the parties are entitled to keep 26 confidential, to ensure that the parties are permitted reasonable necessary uses of 27 such material in preparation for and in the conduct of trial, to address their handling 1 information is justified in this matter. It is the intent of the parties that information 2 will not be designated as confidential for tactical reasons and that nothing be so 3 designated without a good faith belief that it has been maintained in a confidential, 4 non-public manner, and there is good cause why it should not be part of the public 5 record of this case.

6 STIPULATED PROTECTIVE ORDER

7 The parties have hereby stipulated and agreed, and therefore IT IS 8 ORDERED, that all discovery, including documents produced in this action, shall 9 be subject to the following restrictions, and that the following terms and conditions 10 shall govern the treatment of Confidential Information. 11 1. Confidential Information. "Confidential Information" refers to 12 information, documents, or other material that the designating party reasonably and 13 in good faith believes constitutes or reflects trade secrets or information whose 14 confidentiality is otherwise protectable under applicable law. This includes but is 15 not limited to confidential research, development, or commercial information, 16 personal medical information, private personal information, protected health 17 information, tax returns, and other information reasonably sought to be kept 18 confidential. 19 2. Designation of Confidential Information. Any party may 20 reasonably designate any document containing Confidential Information, or portion 21 thereof, which it may produce as "Confidential" by labeling the document to be so 22 designated substantially as follows: "CONFIDENTIAL: SUBJECT TO 23 PROTECTIVE ORDER." The designation CONFIDENTIAL: SUBJECT TO 24 PROTECTIVE ORDER does not mean that the document has any status or 25 protection by statute or otherwise except to the extent and for the purposes of this 26 Order. 27 3. Use of Confidential Information. Anyone who is provided with 1 solely in connection with this action, shall keep such information strictly 2 confidential, and shall in no way disclose such information, or any portion, 3 summary, abstract or other derivation thereof, to any firm, person, or entity, except 4 as provided in paragraph 4. No party may withhold any responsive document from 5 production on the basis that it contains or constitutes Confidential Information. This Protective Order is intended to facilitate the disclosure of such information, not prevent it.

4. Disclosure of Confidential Information. Access to Confidential Information shall be limited to:

(a) Attorneys. Attorneys of record and other personnel in their law firm(s) (including other attorneys, paralegals, and other staff personnel) who require access for the purpose of representing any party in this action.

(b) Named parties. The named parties in this action.

(c) Experts and consultants. Outside experts or consultants retained in connection with this action, provided that they first shall be shown and shall read a copy of this Stipulated Protective Order, and shall execute a Confidentiality Agreement in the form attached hereto as Exhibit A. Counsel shall retain executed Confidentiality Agreements for consultants and experts, but shall not be required to produce them absent Court order upon showing of good cause.

(d) Witnesses. Witnesses who testify at depositions, hearings, or trial, if any such further proceedings occur in this case.

(e) Court reporters and videographers. Court reporters and videographers appearing at depositions, hearings, or trial, if any such further proceedings occur in this case.

(g) Vendors. Vendors hired by a party to host data and maintain a database of electronic data or perform other work related to the collection, review, or production of documents in this case.

(h) Other persons. Without the necessity of a Court order, any other person who the parties jointly agree may have access to the Confidential Information.

5. Non-Waiver of Confidentiality or Objection to Production. Review of Confidential Information by any person in paragraph 4 shall not waive the confidentiality of that information.

6. Inadvertent Disclosure of Confidential Information. The inadvertent, unintentional, or in camera disclosure of Confidential Information shall not be deemed a waiver, in whole or in part, of any party's claim of confidentiality. Within fifteen (15) days of discovering such inadvertent or unintentional disclosure, any party to this Order may advise the other parties that the Confidential Information is to be designated as Confidential under the terms of this Order.

7. Inadvertent Disclosure of Privileged Information. In the interest of expediting discovery in this proceeding and avoiding unnecessary costs,

(a) inadvertent or unintentional disclosure in this litigation of privileged information and/or work product shall not be deemed a waiver, in whole or in part, of any otherwise valid claim of privilege, immunity, or other protection; and

(b) failure to assert a privilege and/or work product in this litigation as to one document or communication shall not be deemed to constitute a waiver, in whole or in part, of the privilege, immunity, or other protection as to any other document or communication allegedly so protected, even involving the same subject matter. In the case of inadvertently produced privileged and/or work product documents, upon the recipient becoming aware that he or she has received such documents that were inadvertently produced, or upon a request made by the producing party, the documents shall be returned forthwith to the party claiming privilege and/or work product immunity. Any party may, within five (5) court days after notification of inadvertent disclosure under this paragraph, object to the claim of inadvertence by notifying the designating or producing party in writing of that objection and specifying the 5 designated or produced material to which the objection is made. The parties shall 6 confer within fifteen (15) days of service of any written objection. If the objection is 7 not resolved, the designating party shall, within fifteen (15) days of the conference, 8 file and serve a motion to resolve the dispute. If a motion is filed, information 9 subject to dispute shall be treated consistently with the designating or producing 10 party's most recent designation until otherwise ordered by the Court. 11 8. Depositions. Any deposition which a party determines will or 12 might reasonably include disclosure of Confidential Information shall be attended 13 only by those persons entitled to receive such Confidential Information pursuant to 14 this Order, but this shall not be construed to allow any such person to attend a 15 deposition he or she otherwise would not be allowed to attend. During a deposition, 16 any party may ask the reporter to designate certain portions of the testimony as 17 confidential, in which case the confidential portions shall be separately transcribed 18 and labeled as confidential. In addition, within thirty (30) days after a copy of the 19 transcript taken at the deposition is delivered to the parties, counsel may designate 20 the entirety or any specified portion of the transcript or exhibits thereto as 21 Confidential by letter to the opposing party. Until such thirty-day period expires, the 22 entirety of such transcripts and all exhibits thereto shall be treated as Confidential 23 and subject to this Order. After such thirty-day period expires, such transcripts, 24 exhibits or portions thereof designated as Confidential shall be treated as such under 25 this Order. If no such designation is made within thirty days, such transcripts or 26 exhibits shall not be subject to this Order, except as later agreed by the parties. 27 9. Filing With Court. In filing materials with the Court in pretrial 1 deposition testimony designated as Confidential, and only those specific portions of 2 briefs, applications, and other filings that either contain verbatim Confidential 3 Information or set forth the substance of such Confidential Information. Pursuant to 4 Civil Local Rule 79-5, protected Material may only be filed under seal pursuant to a 5 court order authorizing the sealing of the specific Protected Material at issue. Thus, 6 the Court retains the power, either upon motion of any interested party or on its own 7 motion, to determine whether materials filed under seal shall remain sealed. Any 8 such Confidential Information shall be filed under seal, in a sealed envelope (or 9 other sealed container) marked with the title of this action, the title of each such 10 transcript or document being filed, and a statement substantially in the following 11 form: 12 CONFIDENTIAL

13 Pursuant to the Stipulated Protective Order dated _____, 202_, this 14 envelope containing the above-entitled transcripts or documents filed by 15 [the name of the party], is not to be opened nor the contents thereof 16 displayed or revealed, except in accordance with an Order of the Court. 17 18 10. Objection to Designation. If any party to the litigation disputes 19 the designation of any document or information as Confidential Information, before 20 seeking the assistance of the Court, the parties must first confer in good faith in an 21 attempt to resolve the question of whether or on what terms the document or 22 information is entitled to Confidential treatment. The party objecting to the 23 Confidential designation shall notify the designating party in writing, and the 24 designating party shall respond within fifteen (15) days. If the parties are unable to 25 agree as to whether the document or information is properly designated as 26 Confidential Information, the designating party must file an appropriate motion with 27 the Court within fifteen (15) days. The burden of proving the propriety of the 1 does not file an appropriate motion with the Court within fifteen (15) days, then the 2 document or information will lose its Confidential designation. Otherwise, until a 3 resolution of the dispute is achieved either through consent or Court order, the 4 parties shall treat the designated document or information as Confidential 5 Information. 6 11. Return of Confidential Information. Upon the termination of 7 this action, whether by Court order, judgment, settlement, or otherwise, including 8 the termination of any appeals, each party will return to the other or destroy all 9 documents (including copies and reproductions) designated as Confidential. The 10 return or destruction of Confidential materials shall be completed within thirty (30) 11 days after termination of this action. Any attorney of record in this action who 12 provides access to Confidential Information to any expert, consultant, witness, or 13 other person (as defined in paragraph 4) is responsible for the retrieval from any 14 such expert, consultant, witness, or other person of all documents designated as 15 Confidential; and the work product prepared by any such expert, consultant, 16 witness, or other person derived from that Confidential Information shall be 17 destroyed and/or returned to that attorney of record. This Order, and the obligation 18 to keep Confidential Information confidential, shall survive the final termination of 19 this action. 20 12. Request to Produce Confidential Information by Subpoena or 21 Otherwise. If any party who has received Confidential Information is asked to 22 produce such information, by subpoena or otherwise, for purposes of use in a 23 separate legal action, the party receiving such a request shall promptly inform the 24 producing party that such request has been received and shall object to such request 25 on the basis of this Order. 26 13. Waiver of Privilege and Admissibility. Nothing in this Order 27 shall be deemed a waiver of any type of privilege applicable to any type of 1 construed to affect the evidentiary admissibility of any Confidential Information, 2 and absent order of the Court, there will be no restrictions because of this Order on 3 the use of any document that may be introduced by any party during any hearing, 4 including trial. 5 14. Use at Trial. Nothing in this Order shall govern the use of 6 Confidential Information at any trial of this action. Questions regarding the 7 protection for Confidential Information during trial shall be presented to the Court 8 prior to or during trial as each party deems appropriate. 9 15. Non-Party's Confidential Information. Any non-party 10 producing discovery material or giving deposition testimony in this action may avail 11 herself, himself, or itself of the confidential treatment provided for in this Order for 12 her, his, or its discovery material or testimony by following the procedures provided 13 herein. 14 16. No Confidential Information shall be Impounded with the 15 Court. No Confidential Information or material that a party seeks to have 16 designated or treated as Confidential Information shall be impounded or stored with 17 the Court. 18 17. Modification. This Order shall not prevent any party from 19 applying to the Court for modification of the Order or for further relief. 20 18. Subject to Further Orders of the Court. This Order is subject 21 to the Court’s further orders. 22 19. Failure to Comply. Failure to comply with this Order shall be a 23 basis for monetary sanctions or other appropriate relief. 24 25 26 27 1 20. Subtitles. The subtitles in this Order have been provided for 2 || convenience only and are not to be considered in construing or interpreting the 3 || meaning of this Order. 4
