

COURT OF APPEALS FOR THE TWELFTH DISTRICT OF TEXAS

Donald Lee Gray v. State

Gray v. State · Decided April 10, 2015

SUMMARY

This document is a transmittal letter and executed mandate from the Twelfth Court of Appeals in Tyler, Texas, concerning consolidated criminal appeals by Donald Lee Gray. It identifies appellate cause numbers and trial court cause numbers and records that the mandate was executed and scanned by the Smith County District Clerk on April 10, 2015.

CASE DETAILS

COURT	Court of Appeals for the Twelfth District of Texas
WRITING FOR THE COURT	Brian Hoyle; Greg Neeley; Margaret Hussey
JURISDICTION	Texas
DECIDED	April 10, 2015
DISPOSITION	other
PROCEDURAL POSTURE	Mandate transmittal following an earlier opinion of the Twelfth Court of Appeals of Texas in three criminal appeals.
PRECEDENTIAL VALUE	Published, according to the provided existing metadata; the supplied document itself is a mandate transmittal and does not state the precedential designation.
PARTIES	Donald Lee Gray v. The State of Texas

TOPICS

appellate procedure

criminal procedure

PRACTICE AREAS

criminal appellate procedure

Texas criminal law

PROCEDURAL HISTORY

The document is a clerk's mandate transmittal letter stating that the mandate was issued pursuant to Texas Rule of Appellate Procedure 18.1. It identifies three appellate causes and corresponding trial-court cause numbers, but it does not include the underlying opinion, the lower-court disposition, or the appellate court's merits disposition.

DISPOSITION

other

Retrieved from lawtools.ai · <https://lawtools.ai/cases/state/texas-court-of-appeals-for-the-twelfth-district-of-texas/2015/donald-lee-gray-v-state-5pxf3cc0>