Gray v. Martin

No. 1:25-cv-00594-SAB (E.D. Cal. July 16, 2025) · No. 1:25-cv-00594-SAB · Decided July 17, 2025

SUMMARY

The United States District Court for the Eastern District of California screened Plaintiff Richard Bernard Gray’s amended pro se complaint under 28 U.S.C. § 1915(e)(2). The court concluded that the complaint did not identify a cognizable federal cause of action or establish subject-matter jurisdiction, but granted a final opportunity to file a second amended complaint within 30 days. The order also limited the amended complaint to 25 pages and warned that failure to comply could result in a recommendation of dismissal.

PROCEDURAL POSTURE	Plaintiff proceeding pro se and in forma pauperis filed an amended civil-rights complaint. The magistrate judge screened the amended complaint under 28 U.S.C. § 1915(e)(2), found no cognizable claim and no adequately established federal-question jurisdiction, and granted a final opportunity to file a second amended complaint.
STANDARD OF REVIEW	The court applied the pleading standard under Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 8(a) and the facial-plausibility standard under Ashcroft v. Iqbal and Bell Atlantic Corp. v. Twombly. Subject-matter jurisdiction was reviewed sua sponte, with the burden on the plaintiff to establish jurisdiction.

QUESTIONS PRESENTED

1. Whether the amended complaint established federal-question subject-matter jurisdiction.
2. Whether the amended complaint stated a facially plausible and cognizable claim for relief under the applicable pleading standard.
3. Whether plaintiff should receive leave to file a second amended complaint to cure the identified deficiencies.

HOLDINGS

1. The amended complaint did not establish federal-question jurisdiction because it did not identify or allege facts supporting a federal cause of action; its principal allegations concerning invasion of privacy and fraud were state-law matters.
2. The amended complaint failed to state any cognizable claim for relief because its allegations did not provide sufficient factual matter connecting each defendant to a violation of federal constitutional rights or other actionable law.
3. The court granted plaintiff a final opportunity to file a second amended complaint because the identified pleading deficiencies might be curable by amendment.

KEY QUOTATIONS

“A complaint need only contain “a short and plain statement of the claim showing that the pleader is entitled to relief . . .” (at 1)

“Because Plaintiff has not identified or alleged facts that implicate a federal cause of action, the Court will not go into an analysis of whether Plaintiff has sufficiently pleaded claims under California law.” (at 6)

“For the reasons discussed herein, Plaintiff fails to state any cognizable claims for relief and shall be granted—for a final time—leave to file a second amended complaint to cure the deficiencies identified by the Court in this order, if he believes he can do so in good faith.” (at 6)

FACTUAL BACKGROUND

Plaintiff alleged that the defendants stalked and surveilled him with drones, invaded his privacy, committed bank and credit-card fraud, damaged his house and vehicle, interfered with his deed, and impersonated law-enforcement or judicial officials. He identified himself and the defendants as California residents and asserted federal-question jurisdiction based on generalized references to federal law enforcement, invasion of privacy, drone voyeurism, and federal law. The court concluded that the allegations principally described state-law privacy and fraud claims and did not identify facts supporting a federal cause of action.

PROCEDURAL HISTORY

Gray filed the action on May 20, 2025, against Johnathan Martin and others. The court granted in forma pauperis status on May 21, 2025, screened the original complaint on June 6, 2025, and found it failed to state a cognizable claim. After Gray timely filed an amended complaint, the court screened it, found that the allegations did not identify a federal cause of action or establish subject-matter jurisdiction, and granted thirty days to file a second amended complaint. The court warned that failure to do so would lead to a recommendation that the action be dismissed.

OPINION

1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT 9 10 EASTERN DISTRICT OF CALIFORNIA 11 RICHARD BERNARD GRAY, Case No. 1:25-cv-00594-SAB 12 Plaintiff, ORDER SCREENING COMPLAINT AND 13 GRANTING LEAVE TO FILE SECOND v.
AMENDED COMPLAINT 14 JOHNATHAN MARTIN, et al., (ECF No. 5) 15 Defendants.
THIRTY-DAY DEADLINE 16 17 On May 20, 2025, Plaintiff Richard Bernard Gray, who is proceeding pro se and in forma 18 pauperis, filed a complaint against Johnathan Martin, Joanne

On May 21, 2025, the Court granted 20 Plaintiff’s application to proceed in forma pauperis and on June 6, 2025, the Court screened the 21 complaint and found that it failed to state a cognizable claim. (ECF Nos. 3, 4.) Plaintiff timely 22 filed an amended complaint (ECF No. 5), and the Court now undertakes screening of the operative 23 complaint. 24 I. 25 SCREENING REQUIREMENT
26 The in forma pauperis statute provides that a court shall dismiss a case if, inter alia, the 27 complaint is “frivolous or malicious,” or “fails to state a claim on which relief may be granted.” 28
U.S.C. § 1915(e)(2).

In determining whether a complaint fails to state a claim, a court uses the 1 same pleading standard used under Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 8(a). A complaint need only 2 contain “a short and plain statement of the claim showing that the pleader is entitled to relief...” 3 Fed. R. Civ. P. 8(a)(2). Detailed factual allegations are not required, but “[t]hreadbare recitals of 4 the elements of a cause of action, supported by mere conclusory statements, do not suffice.” 5 Ashcroft v. Iqbal, 556 U.S. 662, 678 (2009), citing Bell Atlantic Corp. v. Twombly, 550 U.S. 544, 6 555 (2007).

7 To survive screening, a plaintiff’s claims must be facially plausible, which requires 8 sufficient factual detail to allow the Court to reasonably infer that each named defendant is liable 9 for the misconduct alleged. Iqbal, 556 U.S. at 678-79; Moss v. U.S. Secret Serv., 572 F.3d 962, 10 969 (9th Cir. 2009).

The “sheer possibility that a defendant has acted unlawfully” is not sufficient, 11 and “facts that are ‘merely consistent with’ a defendant’s liability” falls short of satisfying the 12 plausibility standard. Iqbal, 556 U.S. at 678; Moss, 572 F.3d at 969. 13 Moreover, federal courts are under a duty to raise and decide issues of subject matter 14 jurisdiction sua sponte at any time it appears subject matter jurisdiction may be lacking.

Fed. R. 15 Civ. P. 12; Augustine v. United States, 704 F.2d 1074, 1077 (9th Cir. 1983). If the Court 16 determines that subject matter jurisdiction is lacking, the Court must dismiss the case. Id.; Fed. R. 17 Civ. P. 12(h)(3). 18 Leave to amend may be granted to the extent that the deficiencies of the complaint can be 19 cured by amendment. Cato v. U.S., 70 F.3d 1103, 1106 (9th Cir.

1995). 20 II. 21 COMPLAINT ALLEGATIONS 22 The Court accepts Plaintiff’s allegations in his complaint as true for the purpose of this 23 sua sponte screening requirement under 28 U.S.C. § 1915. 24 Plaintiff brings this action against Defendants Johnathan Martin, Joanne Martin, Mary 25 Gonzalez, “Mike,” Ruvya Kahr, Roxanne Miranda, and “Ray.” (ECF No. 5, pp. 2-4.)1 Plaintiff 26 and all Defendants are identified as California residents, and Plaintiff has indicated that the basis 27 1 For clarity, the page number citations refer to the actual PDF page number of ECF No. 5.

While Plaintiff 1 for subject-matter jurisdiction is federal question jurisdiction. (Id.) Plaintiff lists the specific 2 federal statutes, federal treaties, and/or provisions of the United States Constitution as: “acting like 3 federal law enforcement. Invasion of privacy – drone stacking with drone/voye[u]rism.” (Id. at 4 p. 5.) 5 In his statement of claim, Plaintiff states that “all defendants are watching me with invasion 6 of privacy, stalking with 6 drones.

Credit card and bank fraud. Representing law enforcem[ent] 7 and federal judges.” (Id. at p. 6.) For relief, Plaintiff states that “they stole $35,000.00 from Bank 8 of America account. I’ve been paying their PGE bills for over 3 yrs. And continued bank & credit 9 card fraud damages to my house and vehicle. Trying to alter my deed to my house.” (Id. at p. 7.)

10 Plaintiff has then included additional pages, discussing each defendant. Regarding 11 Johnathan Martin, Plaintiff states that “for the last three years, has had me paying their energy 12 bills for the residences [on Cypress Ave], Fresno, [and] Douglas Ave, Fresno. PGE is doing an 13 investigation on Johnathan Martin because this is the third time he’s been caught.” (Id. at p. 8.)

14 Plaintiff then lists at least two transactions. (Id.) Plaintiff then states that “Johnathan has also 15 acted like an [sic] federal agency by [lying(?)] to the lawyers who were going to represent me 16 making them think I’m crazy.” (Id. at p. 9.) Plaintiff reiterates that Johnathan Martin is under 17 investigation for bank & credit card fraud and lists a claim number.

(Id.) Finally, Plaintiff states 18 that Johnathan Martin has “his cash app card linked to mine.” (Id.) 19 For Joanne Martin, Plaintiff states that “she is a nurse at the county jail was as well was 20 acting like a federal judge. Once I found out that the federal judge seated was a woman. Plus, she 21 had a [(illegible)] with the jail officers trying to set me up by having me served a fake restraining 22 order – to be arrested and jailed by saying that I attacked a c/o.

She also has her cash app card 23 linked to my card...” (Id. at p. 10.) “She also asked officer to let her know my test results from 24 drug test to use against me if is come back positive.” (Id.) In addition, “she called VA hospital on 25 6 - 14 -25 for my test urinalysis for her personal gain as evidence against me for the federal court 26 or to keep calling police department to say I’m smoking or acting crazy or threats.” (Id.)

27 Regarding Sonny Kaur, Plaintiff states he “was always flying the drones along with Mike 1 done the vandalism to my house and truck. He broke a window in my downstairs bedroom.” (Id. 2 at p. 11.) On the same page, Plaintiff also discusses Ravvy Kaur, who he alleges is “the one who 3 was messing with the deed to my home and always was saying I had weapons when calling police.

4 And one of the brains in the group. She works for the IRS. Internal Revenue Service.” (Id.) 5 Turning to “Mike,” Plaintiff states that “Mike is the brains of the crew he knows how to get 6 into my phones, laptop by putting chips and location services on my truck. They know who I call, 7 txt [sic] how much money I have on my bank cards and bank accounts. There is also cameras all 8 through my house.

They always know where I’m at and doing in my home. He can control who I 9 can call or can’t call me.” (Id.) 10 III. 11 DISCUSSION 12 A. Subject-Matter Jurisdiction 13 While Plaintiff has included more information in his amended complaint, it does not appear 14 that Plaintiff has alleged a federal cause of action. 15 Federal courts are courts of limited jurisdiction.

See, e.g., Kokkonen v. Guardian Life Ins. Co. of Am., 511 U.S. 375, 377 (1994). Federal courts can adjudicate only cases that the 17 Constitution or Congress authorize them to adjudicate: those cases involving diversity of 18 citizenship (where the parties are from diverse states), or a federal question, or those cases to 19 which the United States is a party.

See id. Federal courts are presumptively without jurisdiction over civil cases and the burden of establishing the contrary rests upon the party asserting jurisdiction. Id. at 377. From the amended complaint, it appears that the only basis for subject-matter jurisdiction is federal question jurisdiction, which in turn requires Plaintiff to identify a cause of action that implicates the federal constitution, treaties, statutes, or other federal law.

However, the majority of Plaintiff's allegations center around invasion of privacy and fraud, both of which are state law claims and cannot form the basis for federal question jurisdiction. See Hill v. National Collegiate Athletic Assn., 7 Cal. 4th 1, 24, 865 P.2d 633 (Cal. 1994) (discussing four theories of liability for invasion of privacy tort); Lazar v. Superior Court, 12 Cal.4th 631, 638, 909 P.2d 981 (Cal.

1996) (discussing the elements of fraud under California law). Because Plaintiff has not identified or alleged facts that implicate a federal cause of action, the Court will not go into an analysis of whether Plaintiff has sufficiently pleaded claims under California law.

For this same reason, the Court finds that Plaintiff has not met his burden of demonstrating that this Court has subject-matter jurisdiction over his case. That said, the Court will give Plaintiff a final opportunity to amend. Should Plaintiff do so, he may not include causes of action that would alter the nature of his suit. Plaintiff may not also fabricate facts.

To that end, the Court reminds Plaintiff that Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 8(a) requires that Plaintiff need only provide a short and plain statement of the claim, but the claims nevertheless need to be facially plausible. IV. CONCLUSION AND ORDER For the reasons discussed herein, Plaintiff fails to state any cognizable claims for relief and shall be granted—for a final time—leave to file a second amended complaint to cure the deficiencies identified in this order, if he believes he can do so in good faith.

See Lopez v. Smith, 203 F.3d 1122, 1127 (9th Cir. 2000). If Plaintiff chooses to file a second amended complaint, that complaint can be brief, Fed. R. Civ. P. 8(a), but it must state what each named defendant did that led to the deprivation of Plaintiff's constitutional rights or violations of state law. Iqbal, 556 U.S. at 678-79. Importantly, the "[f]actual allegations must be [sufficient] to raise a right to relief above the speculative level." Twombly, 550 U.S. at 555 (citations omitted).

Additionally, Plaintiff may not change the nature of this suit by adding new, unrelated claims in his amended complaint. Finally, Plaintiff is informed that the Court cannot refer to a prior pleading in order to make Plaintiff's amended complaint complete. Local Rule 220 requires that an amended complaint be complete in itself without reference to any prior pleading.

This requirement exists because, as a general rule, an amended complaint supersedes the original complaint. See 1 Based on the foregoing, IT IS HEREBY ORDERED that: 2 1. The Clerk of the Court shall send Plaintiff a complaint for civil case form; 3 2. Within thirty (30) days from the date of service of this order, Plaintiff shall file a 4 second amended complaint curing the deficiencies identified by the Court in this 5 order; 6 3.

The second amended complaint, including attachments, shall not exceed twenty- 7 five (25) pages in length; and 8 4. If Plaintiff fails to file a second amended complaint in compliance with this order, 9 the Court will recommend to a district judge that this action be dismissed 10 consistent with the reasons stated in this order. 11 Db IT IS SO ORDERED.
