QUESTIONS PRESENTED

1. Whether the court should exercise supplemental jurisdiction over the Unruh Civil Rights Act claim and the other state-law claims.
2. Whether Plaintiff must provide information concerning the amount of Unruh Act statutory damages sought and whether Plaintiff or counsel qualifies as a high-frequency litigant under California Code of Civil Procedure section 425.55.

HOLDINGS

1. A federal court may raise and examine the question of subject matter jurisdiction sua sponte at any time while the action is pending.
2. The court may decline to exercise supplemental jurisdiction for the reasons provided in 28 U.S.C. § 1367(c), including substantial federal-state comity concerns implicated by ADA-based Unruh Act claims.

KEY QUOTATIONS

“it is well established that ‘a court may raise the question of subject matter jurisdiction, sua sponte, at any time during the pendency of the action’” (672 F.3d at 673)

FACTUAL BACKGROUND

The complaint alleged a violation of the Americans with Disabilities Act and sought injunctive relief. It also asserted a claim for damages under California's Unruh Civil Rights Act and other state-law claims, with supplemental jurisdiction under 28 U.S.C. § 1367(a) identified as the sole basis for federal jurisdiction over the Unruh Act claim.

PROCEDURAL HISTORY

Plaintiff filed a complaint asserting an ADA claim for injunctive relief, an Unruh Civil Rights Act claim for damages, and other state-law claims. The court questioned supplemental subject matter jurisdiction and ordered Plaintiff to respond by August 21, 2025, warning that failure to respond could result in dismissal without prejudice or declining supplemental jurisdiction over the state-law claims.
