

FOURTEENTH COURT OF APPEALS OF TEXAS

Kenton Fryer v. State

No. 14-18-00381-CR (Tex. App.—Houston [14th Dist.] Aug. 14, 2018) (per curiam order) · No. No. 14-18-00381-CR · Decided August 14, 2018

SUMMARY

The Fourteenth Court of Appeals ordered the official court reporter to file the overdue reporter’s record in Kenton Fryer’s criminal appeal by September 13, 2018. The court warned that no further extension would be granted absent exceptional circumstances and could direct the trial court to conduct a hearing if the record was not timely filed.

QUESTIONS PRESENTED

1. What action should the appellate court take when the reporter's record has not been timely filed despite a prior filing order and extension?

HOLDINGS

1. When the reporter's record has not been timely filed, the appellate court may order the official court reporter to file the record by a specified deadline and may direct the trial court to conduct a hearing regarding the failure if the reporter does not comply.

KEY QUOTATIONS

“The trial and appellate courts are jointly responsible for ensuring that the appellate record is timely filed.”

FACTUAL BACKGROUND

The reporter's record in Fryer's criminal appeal was originally due June 18, 2018. Despite a subsequent filing order and an extension through August 6, 2018, the official court reporter had not filed the record by the date of this order.

PROCEDURAL HISTORY

The reporter's record was due June 18, 2018. After the court ordered filing within fifteen days and granted an extension through August 6, 2018, the record still had not been filed, prompting the court to order filing by September 13, 2018.
