QUESTIONS PRESENTED

- Whether the action should be dismissed without prejudice under Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 41(b) after petitioner failed to comply with the court's order requiring submission of a completed § 2254 petition form.

2. Whether petitioner was entitled to a certificate of appealability.

HOLDINGS

1. The action was properly dismissed without prejudice under Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 41(b) because petitioner failed to comply with the court's order and did not respond within the prescribed twenty-day period.
2. A certificate of appealability was denied because petitioner failed to make a substantial showing of the denial of a constitutional right.

KEY QUOTATIONS

“Accordingly, the action will be DISMISSED WITHOUT PREJUDICE.”

“A certificate of appealability will not issue unless a prisoner makes “a substantial showing of the denial of a constitutional right.””

FACTUAL BACKGROUND

Petitioner was a Virginia inmate seeking immediate release from confinement. Although he styled his filing as an emergency motion for a temporary restraining order and preliminary injunction, the court determined that its substance could be pursued as a petition for a writ of habeas corpus under 28 U.S.C. § 2254. After receiving notice and a § 2254 petition form, petitioner failed to return the form within the required twenty-day period.

PROCEDURAL HISTORY

Petitioner initiated the action by filing an emergency motion for a temporary restraining order and preliminary injunction. The court issued an April 8, 2026 memorandum order giving petitioner the opportunity to proceed under § 2254 and warning that failure to return the required form within twenty days would result in dismissal under Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 41(b). Petitioner did not respond, so the court dismissed the action without prejudice and denied a certificate of appealability.

IN THE UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT FOR THE EASTERN DISTRICT OF VIRGINIA
Richmond Division SHYRIQ PARHAM, Petitioner, v. Civil Action No. 3:26CV235 L. HARDY, et al., Respondents. MEMORANDUM OPINION Petitioner, a Virginia inmate proceeding pro se, has submitted an Emergency Motion for a Temporary Restraining Order and Preliminary Injunction, wherein he sought his immediate release from confinement.

(ECF No. 1.) Given the content of this document, the Court deemed it appropriate to give Petitioner the opportunity to pursue this action as a petition for a writ of habeas corpus under 28 U.S.C. § 2254. See Rivenbark v. Virginia, 305 F. App'x 144, 145 (4th Cir. 2008).

Accordingly, by Memorandum Order entered on April 8, 2026, the Court sent Petitioner the form for filing a 28 U.S.C. § 2254 petition. The Court informed Petitioner if he wished to proceed pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 2254, he must complete the § 2254 Petition form and return the same to the Court within twenty (20) days of the date of entry thereof.

The Court warned Petitioner that the failure to return to the § 2254 Petition form within twenty (20) days of the date of entry thereof would result in the dismissal of the action. See Fed. R. Civ. P. 41(b). More than twenty (20) days have elapsed since the entry of the April 8, 2026 Memorandum Order and Petitioner has not responded.

Accordingly, the action will be DISMISSED WITHOUT PREJUDICE. An appeal may not be taken from the final order in a § 2254 proceeding unless a judge issues a certificate of appealability. 28 U.S.C. § 2253(c)(1)(A). A certificate of appealability will not issue unless a prisoner makes “a substantial showing of the denial of a constitutional right.” 28 U.S.C. § 2253(c)(2).

This requirement is satisfied only when “reasonable jurists could debate whether (or, for that matter, agree that) the petition should have been resolved in a different manner or that the issues presented were ‘adequate to deserve encouragement to proceed further.’” Slack v. McDaniel, 529 U.S. 473, 484 (2000) (quoting Barefoot v. Estelle, 463 U.S. 880, 893 n.4 (1983)).

No law or evidence suggests that Petitioner is entitled to further consideration in this matter. The Court will DENY Petitioner a certificate of appealability. An appropriate Order shall accompany this Memorandum Opinion. Date: 5/5/26 cmnflet— Richmond, Virginia Chief United States District Judge
