QUESTIONS PRESENTED

1. Whether the court should grant the parties' agreed motion requesting remand for a new trial.
2. Whether the trial court's judgment should be set aside without regard to the merits and the case remanded for proceedings consistent with the parties' agreement.

HOLDINGS

1. The court granted the parties' joint motion, set aside the trial court's judgment without regard to the merits, and remanded the case for further proceedings in accordance with the parties' agreement.
2. If the Texas Department of Family and Protective Services continues to pursue a permanent restraining order against K. F., the new hearing on the permanent injunction must be conducted under the clear-and-convincing-evidence standard required by Stary v. Ethridge.
3. On remand, K. F.'s appointed counsel shall be discharged and the trial court shall appoint new counsel for K. F. for the new hearing pursuant to Texas Family Code section 107.013.

KEY QUOTATIONS

"We grant the parties' joint motion, set aside the trial court's judgment without regard to the merits, and remand this case to the trial court for further proceedings in accordance with the parties' agreement." (at 2)

FACTUAL BACKGROUND

The appeal arose from a final order in an underlying suit affecting the parent-child relationship. The parties agreed that, if the Texas Department of Family and Protective Services continued pursuing a permanent restraining order against K. F., the new hearing on the permanent injunction would use the clear-and-convincing-evidence standard identified in Stary v. Ethridge. They also agreed that K. F.'s appointed counsel would be discharged and that the trial court would appoint new counsel for the new hearing.

PROCEDURAL HISTORY

The 33rd District Court of Llano County entered a final order in the underlying suit affecting the parent-child relationship. On appeal, the parties filed an agreed motion requesting that the case be remanded for a new trial. The court granted the joint motion, set aside the trial court's judgment without reaching the merits, and remanded for further proceedings under the parties' agreement.

DISPOSITION

vacated

REMAND INSTRUCTIONS

The case is remanded for further proceedings in accordance with the parties' agreement. If the Texas Department of Family and Protective Services continues to pursue a permanent restraining order, the new permanent-injunction hearing must use the clear-and-convincing-evidence standard required by Stary v. Ethridge. K. F.'s appointed counsel is to be discharged, and the trial court is to appoint new counsel under Texas Family Code section 107.013.
