QUESTIONS PRESENTED

1. Whether the appeal should remain abated and what filings the parties must make to permit the court to determine whether to reinstate, dismiss, or otherwise dispose of the appeal.

HOLDINGS

1. Because the parties failed to respond to the court's prior directive, the appeal remains abated, is treated as a closed case, and is removed from the court's active docket; the parties must file a specified motion or status report within 30 days.

KEY QUOTATIONS

"The appeal remains abated, treated as a closed case, and removed from this Court's active docket."

FACTUAL BACKGROUND

The appeal arose from a final judgment in a suit involving modification of conservatorship and child support. The parties were also involved in trial-court proceedings to enforce their agreement on conservatorship and support. The parties did not respond to the appellate court's prior directive concerning how to proceed with the abated appeal.

PROCEDURAL HISTORY

Webb appealed the trial court's final judgment in a suit for modification of conservatorship and child support. On April 24, 2018, the court of appeals granted in part Webb's motion to abate and remanded the case to the trial court pending proceedings to enforce the parties' agreement concerning conservatorship and support. After the parties failed to provide the required status report or motion by June 25, 2018, the court continued the abatement and directed them to file the required submission within 30 days.

REMAND INSTRUCTIONS

The parties were directed, no later than 30 days from July 24, 2018, to file a motion to reinstate and dismiss or otherwise dispose of the appeal, a motion to reinstate and proceed with the appeal, or a report advising the court of the status of the trial-court proceedings.
