QUESTIONS PRESENTED

1. Whether respondent satisfied the requirements for reinstatement to the practice of law following suspension.

HOLDINGS

1. A suspended attorney may be reinstated when clear and convincing evidence establishes compliance with the suspension order and applicable court rules, the requisite character and fitness to practice law, and that reinstatement would be in the public interest. The court found that Wurah satisfied those requirements.

KEY QUOTATIONS

“having determined, by clear and convincing evidence, that (1) respondent has complied with the order of suspension and the rules of this Court, (2) respondent has the requisite character and fitness to practice law, and (3) it would be in the public interest to reinstate respondent to the practice of law” (1)

“ORDERED that respondent's motion for reinstatement is granted; and it is further ORDERED that respondent is reinstated as an attorney and counselor-at-law, effective immediately.” (1)

FACTUAL BACKGROUND

Amanda Wurah had been suspended from practicing law pursuant to a September 2024 order of the Appellate Division, Third Department. She submitted a motion, affidavit, and exhibits seeking reinstatement. The court found by clear and convincing evidence that she had complied with the suspension order and applicable court rules, possessed the requisite character and fitness, and that reinstatement would serve the public interest.

PROCEDURAL HISTORY

Amanda Wurah was suspended from the practice of law by a September 2024 order of the Appellate Division, Third Department. She then moved for reinstatement, supported by a notice of motion, affidavit, and exhibits. After considering the Attorney Grievance Committee's responsive correspondence, the court granted the motion and reinstated her effective immediately.
