

UNITED STATES COURT OF APPEALS FOR THE FIFTH CIRCUIT

In the Matter of Alden D. Holford, Debtor. Alden D. Holford v. Melvin Lane Powers A/K/A Mel Powers and Mel Powers D/B/A Mel Powers Investment Builder

SUMMARY

The Fifth Circuit held that a debtor's withholding of rent payments to recoup fraud damages arising from the same lease transaction constituted recoupment, not setoff, and therefore was not subject to the automatic stay under 11 U.S.C. § 362(a). The court reversed contempt penalties, distinguishing recoupment (same transaction) from setoff (different transaction) and emphasizing that recoupment is an equitable doctrine that survives bankruptcy and is not stayed. Key topics: bankruptcy, automatic stay, recoupment vs. setoff, contempt, equitable doctrine.

QUESTIONS PRESENTED

1. Whether Holford's withholding of rent to offset fraud damages constituted a recoupment or a setoff
2. Whether a recoupment is subject to the automatic stay under 11 U.S.C. § 362(a)

HOLDINGS

1. Holford's actions constituted a recoupment because the fraud damages and the rental payments arose out of the same transaction (the lease).
2. A recoupment is not subject to the automatic stay because the trustee takes property subject to rights of recoupment, and to the extent the damages equal or exceed the funds withheld, the debtor has no interest in the funds.

KEY QUOTATIONS

“Recoupment allows a defendant to reduce the amount of a plaintiff's claim by asserting a claim against the plaintiff which arose out of the same transaction to arrive at a just and proper liability on the plaintiff's claim.” (at 6)

“application of the 'equitable doctrine [of recoupment] should not depend on whether the parties expressly anticipated the problem’” (at 8)

“the trustee of a bankruptcy estate 'takes the property subject to rights of recoupment’” (at 12)

“to the extent the damages equal or exceed the funds withheld, the debtor has no interest in the funds and, therefore, the stay has not been violated.” (at 12)

FACTUAL BACKGROUND

Holford leased office space from Powers in March 1982 at $1,326 per month, with an additional $600 for extra space that Powers' vice-president assured could be sublet. The extra space was never sublet. Holford raised fraud in January 1983 and began offsetting rent with fraud damages from February 1983, stopping rent payments entirely after learning of Powers' bankruptcy in January 1984. Powers sued for non-payment of rent, and Holford counterclaimed for fraud. The lease terminated in April 1985.

PROCEDURAL HISTORY

The bankruptcy court held that Holford's filing of a counterclaim was proper but his setoff of rents against fraud damages violated the automatic stay. The district court affirmed the contempt finding and award of attorneys' fees. This appeal followed.

DISPOSITION

reversed
