2 There is no evidence that Plaintiff Farmer is a licensed attorney admitted to practice in this Court. Therefore, Plaintiff Farmer cannot represent DRC, Inc. pro se. The rules allowing a party to proceed pro se are well established. See 28 U.S.C. § 1654 (“In all courts of the United States the parties may plead and conduct their own cases personally or by counsel as, by the rules of such courts, respectively, are permitted to manage and conduct causes therein.”); S.D. Ala. GenLR 83.2 (“Unless appearing pro se or through counsel under General Local Rule 83.3(f) or (g), all parties to proceedings in this Court must appear by an attorney admitted to practice in this Court.”). Also, the Rules establishing that a corporation cannot appear pro se are well established. See Palazzo v. Gulf Oil Corp., 764 F.2d 1381, 1385 (11th Cir. 1985) (“[t]he rule is well established that a corporation is an artificial entity that can act only through agents, cannot appear pro se, and must be represented by counsel . . . The general rule applies even where the person seeking to represent the corporation is its president and major stockholder.” (citations omitted)); S.D. Ala. GenLR 83.2 (“Only natural persons may appear pro se.”); Person, Black’s Law Dictionary (12th ed. 2024) (defining “person” as human being, while noting that this would be termed a “natural person”).
