QUESTIONS PRESENTED

1. Whether good cause existed to stay current case deadlines while the motion to dismiss or compel arbitration was pending.

2. Whether the court should approve limited tolling of the statute of limitations for putative collective members' FLSA claims during the stay.

HOLDINGS

1. The court approved a stay of all current case deadlines, including the Rule 26(f) conference, discovery-plan and scheduling-order deadlines, and discovery and motion deadlines, until the court ruled on the pending motion, unless the parties further agreed or the court ordered otherwise.
2. The court approved limited equitable tolling of the statute of limitations for putative collective members' FLSA claims asserted against defendant, beginning on the date of the order and ending when the court issued its ruling on the pending motion.

FACTUAL BACKGROUND

Rachel Chua brought a putative FLSA collective action against Neuromonitoring Associates, LLC. While a dispositive motion concerning personal jurisdiction, venue, and arbitration was pending, the parties agreed that continuing discovery and scheduling deadlines could cause unnecessary expense. They also agreed to toll the statute of limitations for putative collective members' FLSA claims from entry of the order until the court ruled on the motion.

PROCEDURAL HISTORY

Plaintiff filed this putative Fair Labor Standards Act collective action on November 17, 2025. Defendant filed a motion to dismiss for lack of personal jurisdiction and venue, or alternatively to compel arbitration, on December 12, 2025. The parties then stipulated to a stay of deadlines and limited tolling, which the court approved on January 15, 2026.
