

COURT OF APPEALS OF TEXAS, FIRST DISTRICT

Charles Henry Jones v. State

No. 01-13-00984-CR · No. 01-13-00984-CR · Decided June 5, 2015

SUMMARY

The Texas Court of Appeals for the First District affirmed the judgment of the 339th District Court of Harris County, concluding that the trial court's judgment contained no reversible error. The appellate judgment was rendered on January 13, 2015, and the mandate was issued on June 5, 2015.

OPINION

PER CURIAM.

MANDATE Court of Appeals First District of Texas NO. 01-13-00984-CR CHARLES HENRY JONES, Appellant V. THE STATE OF TEXAS, Appellee Appeal from the 339th District Court of Harris County. (Tr. Ct. No. 1163962). TO THE 339TH DISTRICT COURT OF HARRIS COUNTY, GREETINGS: Before this Court, on the 13th day of January 2015, the case upon appeal to revise or to reverse your judgment was determined.

This Court made its order in these words: This case is an appeal from the final judgment signed by the trial court on October 29, 2013. After submitting the case on the appellate record and the arguments properly raised by the parties, the Court holds that the trial court's judgment contains no reversible error.

Accordingly, the Court affirms the trial court's judgment. The Court orders that this decision be certified below for observance. Judgment rendered January 13, 2015. Panel consists of Justices Keyes, Higley, and Brown. Opinion delivered by Justice Keyes. WHEREFORE, WE COMMAND YOU to observe the order of our said Court in this behalf and in all things to have it duly recognized, obeyed, and executed.
