

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT FOR THE EASTERN DISTRICT OF CALIFORNIA

Abdullo Idiev v. Warden, Golden State Annex Detention Facility, et al.

Idiev · No. 1:25-cv-01778-SKO (HC) · Decided December 17, 2025

SUMMARY

The United States District Court for the Eastern District of California denied Abdullo Idiev's request for appointment of counsel in his habeas proceeding. The court held that there is no absolute right to appointed counsel in habeas proceedings and that the interests of justice did not currently require appointment.

QUESTIONS PRESENTED

1. Whether the court should appoint counsel for the petitioner in the habeas proceeding.

HOLDINGS

1. There is no absolute right to appointment of counsel in habeas proceedings, and counsel should not be appointed at this stage because the interests of justice did not require it.

FACTUAL BACKGROUND

The petitioner requested appointment of counsel in connection with his habeas proceeding. The court determined that no absolute right to appointed counsel exists in habeas proceedings and that the interests of justice did not presently require counsel.

PROCEDURAL HISTORY

Abdullo Idiev filed a habeas petition and requested appointment of counsel. The district court denied the request because it did not find that the interests of justice required appointment of counsel at that time.
