QUESTIONS PRESENTED

1. Whether the court of appeals could stay the county court's judgment and writ of possession pending appeal without evidence that the appellant timely filed a supersedeas bond in the amount set by the county court.

HOLDINGS

1. A county court judgment may not be stayed pending appeal unless, within ten days after the judgment is signed, the appellant files a supersedeas bond in an amount set by the county court. Because Vasquez's motion did not show compliance with that requirement, emergency relief was denied.

KEY QUOTATIONS

“A judgment of a county court may not under any circumstances be stayed pending appeal unless, within 10 days of the signing of the judgment, the appellant files a supersedeas bond in an amount set by the county court.” (order)

FACTUAL BACKGROUND

The appeal arose from a county court judgment awarding possession of a manufactured home. Vasquez sought emergency relief to stay a writ of possession while his appeal was pending, but his motion did not include the judgment or evidence that he had filed a supersedeas bond within the statutory period.

PROCEDURAL HISTORY

The County Court at Law No. 3 of Bexar County entered a May 19, 2021 judgment for possession of a manufactured home. Vasquez filed a notice of appeal on May 25, 2021, and, while the clerk's record had not yet been filed, sought an emergency stay of a writ of possession. The court of appeals denied the emergency motion without prejudice because the motion did not include the county court judgment or evidence of a timely supersedeas bond.

REMAND INSTRUCTIONS

None. The emergency motion was denied without prejudice to refiling a motion showing compliance with Texas Property Code section 24.007.
