

SUPREME COURT OF THE STATE OF NEW YORK, APPELLATE DIVISION, FIRST DEPARTMENT

HSBC Bank USA, National Association v. Proctor

2021 NY Slip Op 00387 (N.Y. Ct. App. 2021) · No. Appeal No. 12959; Case No. 2020-02634; Index No.
850039/15 · Decided January 26, 2021

SUMMARY

The Appellate Division, First Department affirmed an order denying defendant Ron Hillman's motion to dismiss a mortgage foreclosure complaint in its entirety. The court held that Hillman's argument that he was a necessary and indispensable party was improperly raised for the first time on appeal and, in any event, that the foreclosure action could continue without him because his rights would remain unaffected by the judgment.

PER CURIAM.

HSBC Bank USA, N.A. v Proctor (2021 NY Slip Op 00387) HSBC Bank USA, N.A. v Proctor 2021 NY Slip Op 00387 Decided on January 26, 2021 Appellate Division, First Department Published by New York State Law Reporting Bureau pursuant to Judiciary Law § 431. This opinion is uncorrected and subject to revision before publication in the Official Reports. Decided and Entered: January 26, 2021 Before: Gische, J.P., Kern, Moulton, Shulman, JJ. Index No. 850039/15 Appeal No. 12959 Case No. 2020-02634 [*1]HSBC Bank USA, National Association, etc., Plaintiff-Respondent, vSusan Proctor et al., Defendants, Ron Hillman, Defendant-Appellant.

Ronald D. Weiss, P.C., Melville (Rosemarie Klie of counsel), for appellant. Reed Smith LLP, New York (Joseph B. Teig of counsel), for respondent. Order, Supreme Court, New York County (Arlene P. Bluth, J.) entered December 18, 2019, which, to the extent appealed from as limited by the briefs, denied the motion of defendant Ron Hillman to dismiss the complaint in its entirety, unanimously affirmed, without costs.

The claims were severed and dismissed as against Hillman because HSBC failed to obtain personal jurisdiction over him. Hillman's argument, that he is a necessary and indispensable party to the foreclosure action pursuant to RPAPL 1311, and that the action cannot continue without him, has been improperly raised for the first time on appeal (see HSBC Bank USA v Kirschenbaum, 159 AD3d 506, 507 [1st Dept 2018]).

In any event, the argument is unavailing since "the absence of a necessary party in a mortgage foreclosure action simply leaves that party's rights unaffected by the judgment of foreclosure and sale" (Central Mtge. Co. v Davis, 149 AD3d 898, 900 [2d Dept 2017] [internal quotation marks and brackets omitted]; see JPMorgan Chase Bank, N.A. v Salvage, 171 AD3d 438, 439 [1st Dept 2019]).

THIS CONSTITUTES THE DECISION AND ORDER OF THE SUPREME COURT,
APPELLATE DIVISION, FIRST DEPARTMENT. ENTERED: January 26, 2021
