QUESTIONS PRESENTED

1. Whether Appellant had shown reasonable grounds under Texas Rule of Appellate Procedure 10.5(b) for a fourth extension of the deadline to file the appellate brief.

2. What consequence would follow if Appellant failed to file the brief by the extended deadline.

HOLDINGS

1. The court granted Appellant's unopposed motion for an extension of time through July 16, 2021, concluding that counsel's explanation of a recent heavy workload reasonably justified the requested extension.
2. If Appellant failed to file the brief by July 16, 2021, the court could dismiss the appeal.

KEY QUOTATIONS

“Appellant’s motion is GRANTED. Appellant’s brief must be filed with this court not later than July 16, 2021.” (Order)

“NO FURTHER EXTENSIONS OF TIME TO FILE APPELLANT’S BRIEF WILL BE GRANTED.” (Order)

FACTUAL BACKGROUND

This was a procedural order in a pending guardianship appeal. Appellant's brief was initially due April 12, 2021, and the court had already granted three extensions. Appellant's counsel cited a recent heavy workload in support of an unopposed fourth extension through July 16, 2021.

PROCEDURAL HISTORY

The appeal arose from County Court at Law No. 1 of Webb County, Texas, trial court cause number 2011-PB6-000081-L2. The appellate court had previously granted three extensions, extending the briefing deadline to July 12, 2021. Appellant then filed an unopposed fourth motion seeking an extension through July 16, 2021, which the court granted while warning that no further extensions would be granted.
