

COURT OF APPEALS OF TEXAS, FOURTH DISTRICT, SAN ANTONIO

Matthew Douglas Hayes v. State

No. 04-14-00879-CR · No. 04-14-00879-CR · Decided January 27, 2015

SUMMARY

The Texas Fourth Court of Appeals granted the appellant's motion for a sixty-day extension of time to file his brief. The court ordered that the appellant's brief be filed by March 20, 2015, and stated that no further extension would be granted.

CASE DETAILS

COURT	Court of Appeals of Texas, Fourth District, San Antonio
WRITING FOR THE COURT	Jason Pulliam
JURISDICTION	Texas
DECIDED	January 27, 2015
DOCKET	04-14-00879-CR
DISPOSITION	other
PROCEDURAL POSTURE	In a pending criminal appeal, the appellant moved for a sixty-day extension of time to file his brief.
PRECEDENTIAL VALUE	Published order with no substantive legal holding identified in the text
PARTIES	Matthew Douglas Hayes v. The State of Texas

TOPICS

- appellate procedure
- criminal procedure

PRACTICE AREAS

- criminal appellate procedure

QUESTIONS PRESENTED

- Whether to grant the appellant's motion for a sixty-day extension of time to file his appellate brief.

KEY QUOTATIONS

“The motion is GRANTED; however, given the length of the extension granted, THIS IS THE FINAL EXTENSION OF TIME THAT THE APPELLANT WILL BE GRANTED.”

FACTUAL BACKGROUND

The appellant's brief was originally due on January 21, 2015. On that date, appellant's attorney moved for a sixty-day extension. Although the clerk could administratively grant a first extension of up to thirty days, the court granted the longer extension and set March 20, 2015, as the filing deadline.

PROCEDURAL HISTORY

The appeal arose from the 437th Judicial District Court of Bexar County, Texas, trial court cause number 2013CR10842W. The appellant's brief was due January 21, 2015. The Fourth Court of Appeals granted the requested extension and ordered that the brief be filed by March 20, 2015, stating that no further extension would be granted.

DISPOSITION

other