

SUPREME COURT OF THE UNITED STATES

Eimann v. Soldier of Fortune Magazine, Inc.

Eimann v. Soldier of Fortune Magazine, Inc., 493 U.S. 1024 (1990) · Decided January 8, 1990

SUMMARY

The Supreme Court denied certiorari in this case, declining to review the Fifth Circuit's decision that held Soldier of Fortune Magazine liable for publishing a "gun for hire" advertisement that led to a murder. The denial leaves standing the lower court's ruling on the scope of a publisher's duty to third parties for negligent advertising.

OPINION

PER CURIAM.

C. A. 5th Cir. Certiorari denied.
