Castro · No. 25cv1438 DMS (DEB) · Decided October 16, 2025

SUMMARY

The United States District Court for the Southern District of California grants Defendant My Escondido BCG LLC’s motion to dismiss claims brought by pro se plaintiff Eric Ray Castro. The court concludes that, although the alleged filing of a false police report could support an intentional infliction of emotional distress theory, the complaint does not allege sufficient facts to state a claim against the defendant. The dismissal is granted with leave to amend by October 31, 2025.

CASE DETAILS

COURT	United States District Court for the Southern District of California
WRITING FOR THE COURT	Dana M. Sabraw
JURISDICTION	United States District Court for the Southern District of California
DECIDED	October 16, 2025
DOCKET	25cv1438 DMS (DEB)
DISPOSITION	dismissed
PROCEDURAL POSTURE	Defendant My Escondido BCG LLC moved to dismiss the pro se complaint under Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 12(b)(6).
STANDARD OF REVIEW	On a Rule 12(b)(6) motion, the court accepts well-pleaded factual allegations as true and determines whether the complaint contains sufficient factual matter to state a claim for relief that is plausible on its face. The court does not resolve factual disputes at the pleading stage.
PRECEDENTIAL VALUE	nonprecedential

QUESTIONS PRESENTED

1. Whether the complaint stated a plausible claim for relief against My Escondido BCG LLC under the Rule 12(b)(6) pleading standard.
2. Whether Plaintiff's allegation that My Escondido BCG LLC filed a false police report plausibly stated an intentional infliction of emotional distress claim.
3. Whether Plaintiff should be granted leave to amend after dismissal for failure to state a claim.

HOLDINGS

1. The complaint failed to state a plausible claim for relief against My Escondido BCG LLC because it contained only one factual allegation concerning that defendant and did not clearly connect the defendant to the listed claims.
2. The allegation that My Escondido BCG LLC knowingly filed a false police report did not state an intentional infliction of emotional distress claim because Plaintiff alleged no facts supporting the required emotional-distress and causation elements.
3. Plaintiff was granted leave to amend the complaint to address the identified pleading deficiencies.

KEY QUOTATIONS

“To survive a motion to dismiss under this new standard, “a complaint must contain sufficient factual matter, accepted as true, to ‘state a claim to relief that is plausible on its face.’” (at 2)

“Knowingly filing a false police report may satisfy the “extreme and outrageous conduct” element of an intentional infliction of emotional distress claim.” (at 3)

FACTUAL BACKGROUND

Plaintiff alleged that his truck was repossessed and that he was subsequently arrested for larceny. He alleged that My Escondido BCG LLC falsely reported that he stole the truck despite receiving full payment. The complaint also described an allegedly warrantless, forcible entry into Plaintiff's father's home and seizure of firearms and trust-related documents, but it did not clearly identify which claims were asserted against which defendants.

PROCEDURAL HISTORY

Plaintiff filed claims arising from the repossession of his truck, his arrest, and an allegedly warrantless search. The Clerk entered default against Officer Ganot, and defaults against the San Bernardino County Sheriff's Department and California Highway Patrol were later set aside. My Escondido BCG LLC was the only defendant to respond and moved to dismiss. The court granted the motion as to that defendant and granted Plaintiff leave to amend.

OPINION

1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT 9 SOUTHERN DISTRICT OF CALIFORNIA 10 Case No.: 25cv1438 DMS (DEB) ERIC RAY CASTRO, Trustee of the Eric 11
Ray Castro Trust, ORDER GRANTING DEFENDANT’S 12 Plaintiff, MOTION TO DISMISS v.
13 OFFICER C. GANOT (SANCATT-6); 14 SAN BERNARDINO SHERIFF’S 15
DEPARTMENT; NORTH COUNTY BUICK GMC CADILLAC; 16 CALIFORNIA HIGHWAY
PATROL; 17 and DOES 1-50, 18 Defendants.

19 20 This case comes before the Court on the motion to dismiss filed by Defendant My 21
Escondido BCG LLC (“Defendant” or “Escondido BCG”). Plaintiff filed an opposition to 22 the motion, and Defendant filed a reply.

For the reasons set out below, the motion is 23 granted. 24 I. 25 BACKGROUND 26 This case involves a series of events that allegedly took place in San Diego and San 27 Bernardino Counties. (Compl. at 1-2.) First, Plaintiff alleges that on May 28, 2025, his 28 truck was repossessed. (Id. at 2.) Two days later, Plaintiff was arrested by Defendant 1 Officer C. Ganot on a charge of larceny.

(Id. at 2-3, Ex. H.) Plaintiff alleges that as part 2 of the arrest Officer Ganot “seized and stole Trust Property, including: 3 • A Certification of Trust 4 • A Schedule of Fees 5 • Draft stubs 6 • The Purchase and Sale Agreement.” 7 (Id. at 2-3) (emphasis in original). Plaintiff alleges his arrest was the result of a false police 8 report filed by Defendant Escondido BCG, which accused Plaintiff of stealing the truck 9 “despite receiving full payment for the vehicle.” (Id. at 3.)

10 Plaintiff further alleges “[o]fficers forcibly entered the private home of Plaintiff’s 11 father without a warrant, without knocking, and at gunpoint, demanding access to a 12 personal safe.” (Id. at 2.)² Plaintiff alleges that during the search “[f]irearms belonging to 13 Plaintiff’s brother and father—unrelated to the truck—were seized, violating their 14 Second and Fourth Amendment rights.” (Id.)

15 As a result of these events, Plaintiff, who is proceeding pro se, filed the present case 16 against Officer Ganot, the San Bernardino County Sheriff’s Department, the California 17 Highway Patrol, and Defendant Escondido BCG.

In the Complaint, Plaintiff lists the 18 following claims for relief: (1) A claim under 42 U.S.C. § 1983, (2) trespass and invasion 19 of privacy, (3) conversion and theft of trust property, (4) unlawful search and seizure, (5) 20 21 22 1 Plaintiff alleges he was arrested on June 30, 2025, in Victorville, California. (Compl. at 23 2.)

However, the “Arrest/Booking Application” attached to the Complaint reflects Plaintiff was arrested on May 30, 2025, in Apple Valley. (Compl., Ex. H.) It is unclear whether 24 Plaintiff was arrested a second time on June 30, 2025, or whether the date of arrest 25 identified in the Complaint is incorrect. Based on the Arrest/Booking Application, and Plaintiff’s allegation that he was not brought before a judge on his scheduled arraignment 26 on June 3, 2025, (Compl. at 2), the Court construes the Complaint to concern one arrest 27 that occurred on May 30, 2025.

2 It is unclear whether the entry into the home occurred at the same time or in connection 28 1 due process violations, (6) violation of Second Amendment rights, (7) failure to Mirandize, 2 (8) abuse of authority and excessive force, (9) replevin, (10) intentional infliction of 3 emotional distress, and (11) violation of interstate commerce rights. 4 At Plaintiff’s request, the Clerk of Court entered default against Defendant Ganot.

5 Plaintiff’s motion for default judgment against that Defendant is currently pending before 6 the Court. The Court recently set aside the defaults entered against the San Bernardino 7 County Sheriff's Department and the California Highway Patrol. Defendant Escondido 8 BCG is the only defendant to have filed a response to the Complaint, and it did so through 9 the present motion.

10 II. 11 DISCUSSION 12 In Ashcroft v. Iqbal, 556 U.S. 662 (2009), and Bell Atlantic Corp. v. Twombly, 550 13 U.S. 544 (2007), the Supreme Court established a more stringent standard of review for 14 12(b)(6) motions.

To survive a motion to dismiss under this new standard, "a complaint 15 must contain sufficient factual matter, accepted as true, to 'state a claim to relief that is 16 plausible on its face.'" Iqbal, 556 U.S. at 678 (citing Twombly, 550 U.S. at 570). "A claim 17 has facial plausibility when the plaintiff pleads factual content that allows the court to draw 18 the reasonable inference that the defendant is liable for the misconduct alleged." Id. (citing 19 Twombly, 550 U.S. at 556).

20 "Determining whether a complaint states a plausible claim for relief will... be a 21 context-specific task that requires the reviewing court to draw on its judicial experience 22 and common sense." Id. at 679 (citing Iqbal v. Hasty, 490 F.3d 143, 157-58 (2d Cir. 2007)). 23 In Iqbal, the Court began this task "by identifying the allegations in the complaint that are 24 not entitled to the assumption of truth." Id. at 680.

It then considered "the factual 25 allegations in respondent's complaint to determine if they plausibly suggest an entitlement 26 to relief." Id. at 681. 27 Here, Plaintiff includes only one factual allegation concerning Defendant Escondido 28 BCG, namely, that it filed a police report falsely accusing Plaintiff of stealing the truck. 1 (Compl. at 3.) This is a factual allegation, which the Court accepts as true in deciding the 2 present motion.³ 3 Accepting this allegation as true, the only remaining question is whether the 4 allegation plausibly suggests Plaintiff is entitled to relief from Defendant.

Plaintiff lists 5 eleven claims for relief in his Complaint, (Compl. at 1), but fails to identify which claims 6 are asserted against which Defendant. Because Plaintiff is proceeding pro se, the Court is 7 obligated to liberally construe his Complaint. Watanabe v. Derr, 115 F.4th 1034, 1043 (9th Cir. 2024) (quoting Ross v. Williams, 950 F.3d 1160, 1173 n.19 (9th Cir.

2020) (en banc)). 9 Under a liberal construction, Plaintiff's factual allegation against Defendant tracks most 10 closely with his claim for intentional infliction of emotional distress.⁴ 11 "To state a claim for intentional infliction of emotional distress, a plaintiff must 12 allege (1) extreme and outrageous conduct by defendants with the intention of causing, or 13 reckless disregard for the probability of causing, emotional distress; (2) the suffering of 14 15 3 Defendant challenges Plaintiff's factual allegation that he paid for the truck, and asserts 16 Plaintiff subscribes to the "sovereign citizen" ideology.

(Mem. of P. & A. in Supp. of Mot. 17 at 9-15.) However, "[a]t the motion to dismiss stage, the Court does not resolve factual disputes, but rather simply assesses whether the SAC plausibly pleads a claim for relief.” 18 Baird v. BlackRock Institutional Trust Co., N.A., 403 F.Supp.3d 765, 777 (N.D. Cal. 2019). 19 Accordingly, the Court declines to address whether Plaintiff actually paid for the truck.

As for the “sovereign citizen” argument, the Exhibits to the Complaint indicate Plaintiff may 20 subscribe to that ideology. See United States v. Heineman, ___ F.Supp.3d ___, 2024 WL 21 4149749, at *5 (N.D. Cal. Sep. 11, 2024) (identifying UCC financing statement as indicator of sovereign citizen ideology); Massengale v. Kern County Municipal, No. 1:24-cv-00066- 22 JLT-CDB, 2025 WL 1042396, at *3 (E.D.

Cal. Mar. 18, 2025) (same). If Plaintiff’s claims 23 are based on that ideology, they would be without merit and subject to dismissal on that basis. Massengale, 2025 WL 1042396, at *3. See also Farrell v. Internal Revenue Service, 24 No. CV-21-00697-PHX-DGC, 2021 WL 4748778, at *3 (D. Ariz. Oct. 12, 2021) (stating 25 courts “have repeatedly and emphatically rejected claims based on sovereign citizen and redemptionist theories as frivolous.”) 26 4 It is possible some of the other claims could also apply to Defendant, but given the lack 27 of clarity in the Complaint, the Court will address only the intentional infliction of emotional distress claim.

If Plaintiff wishes to assert any of the other claims against 28 1 || severe or extreme emotional distress; and (3) the fact that the outrageous conduct actually 2 ||and proximately caused the distress.” Barsell v. Urban Outfitters, Inc., No. CV 09-02604 3 ||,MMM (RZx), 2009 WL 1916495, at *5 (C.D. Cal. July 1, 2009) (citations omitted). 4 || Knowingly filing a false police report may satisfy the “extreme and outrageous conduct” 5 ||element of an intentional infliction of emotional distress claim.

See McCue v. South Fork 6 || Union Elementary School, No. 1:10-cv-00233-OWW-MSJS, 2010 WL 3958278, at *5 (E.D. 7 Oct. 8, 2010) (“Making a knowingly false report of child abuse in order to cause a 8 ||CPS report against parents is unquestionably beyond the bounds of that usually tolerated 9 a civilized community if it evinces malice and the intent to cause a child to be removed 10 || from the child’s parent.”) However, Plaintiff fails to allege any facts to support any of the 11 ||other elements for a claim against Defendant.

Absent any additional facts, Plaintiff has 12 || failed to state a claim against Defendant. 13 HI. 14 CONCLUSION AND ORDER 15 For the reasons discussed above, Defendant’s motion to dismiss is granted. 16 Specifically, the Court grants the motion to dismiss Defendant from this case. Plaintiff is 17 || granted leave to amend to address the pleading deficiencies identified above.

If Plaintiff 18 || wishes to file an amended complaint, he shall do so on or before October 31, 2025, and in 19 || accordance with the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure 15 and Civil Local Rule 15.1. 20 IT IS SO ORDERED. 21 ||Dated: October 16, 2025 22 2 nnn Salo 33 Hon.
