

UNITED STATES COURT OF APPEALS FOR THE DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA
CIRCUIT

National Association of Manufacturers v. Securities and Exchange Commission

Nat'l Ass'n of Mfrs. v. SEC · No. 13-5252 · Decided November 18, 2014

SUMMARY

The United States Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia Circuit considered petitions for rehearing en banc in National Association of Manufacturers v. Securities and Exchange Commission. The court granted Amnesty International’s motion to file a supplemental brief and deferred consideration of the rehearing petitions pending disposition of the petitions for panel rehearing.

CASE DETAILS

|                       |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |
|-----------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| COURT                 | United States Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia Circuit                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |
| WRITING FOR THE COURT | Garland, Chief Judge; Henderson, Circuit Judge; Rogers, Circuit Judge; Tatel, Circuit Judge; Brown, Circuit Judge; Griffith, Circuit Judge; Kavanaugh, Circuit Judge; Srinivasan, Circuit Judge; Millett, Circuit Judge; Pillard, Circuit Judge; Wilkins, Circuit Judge; Sentelle, Senior Circuit Judge; Randolph, Senior Circuit Judge |
| JURISDICTION          | Federal                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |
| DECIDED               | November 18, 2014                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |
| DOCKET                | 13-5252                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |
| DISPOSITION           | other                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |
| PROCEDURAL POSTURE    | The court considered petitions for rehearing en banc, a joint response, and Amnesty International's motion for leave to file a supplemental brief in support of rehearing en banc.                                                                                                                                                      |
| PRECEDENTIAL VALUE    | Procedural order; no merits holding stated                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |
| PARTIES               | National Association of Manufacturers, et al. v. Securities and Exchange Commission, et al.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |

TOPICS

appellate procedure

administrative law

PRACTICE AREAS

Appellate procedure

Administrative law

QUESTIONS PRESENTED

1. Whether to grant Amnesty International leave to file a supplemental brief in support of the petitions for rehearing en banc.
2. Whether consideration of the petitions for rehearing en banc should be deferred pending disposition of the petitions for panel rehearing.

KEY QUOTATIONS

“It is FURTHER ORDERED that consideration of the petitions be deferred pending disposition of the petitions for panel rehearing.”

FACTUAL BACKGROUND

The order concerns appellate rehearing proceedings arising from litigation involving the National Association of Manufacturers and the Securities and Exchange Commission. The text does not provide the underlying factual background or merits issues.

PROCEDURAL HISTORY

The matter arose from district court case No. 1:13-cv-00635-RLW and appellate docket No. 13-5252. The court granted Amnesty International's motion for leave to file a supplemental brief and deferred consideration of the petitions for rehearing en banc pending disposition of the petitions for panel rehearing.

DISPOSITION

other

OPINION

PER CURIAM.

United States Court of Appeals FOR THE DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA CIRCUIT _____
No. 13-5252 September Term, 2014 1:13-cv-00635-RLW Filed On: November 18, 2014 National Association of Manufacturers, et al., Appellants v. Securities and Exchange Commission, et al., Appellees BEFORE: Garland, Chief Judge; Henderson, Rogers, Tatel, Brown, Griffith, Kavanaugh, Srinivasan, Millett*, Pillard, and Wilkins*, Circuit Judges; and Sentelle and Randolph, Senior Circuit Judges ORDER Upon consideration of the petitions for rehearing en banc and the joint response thereto; and Amnesty International's motion for leave to file a supplemental brief in support of petition for rehearing en banc and the lodged supplemental brief, it is ORDERED that that the motion for leave to file is granted.

The Clerk is directed to file the lodged document. It is FURTHER ORDERED that consideration of the petitions be deferred pending disposition of the petitions for panel rehearing. Per Curiam FOR THE COURT: Mark J. Langer, Clerk BY: /s/ Jennifer M. Clark Deputy Clerk *Circuit Judges Millett and Wilkins did not participate in this matter.