QUESTIONS PRESENTED

1. What deadline and procedural requirements govern objections to the Report and Recommendation?
2. What are the consequences of failing to object to proposed findings of fact or conclusions of law?
3. Whether a party may directly appeal the Report and Recommendation to the Eleventh Circuit before entry of a final judgment.

HOLDINGS

1. Failure to object to a proposed finding of fact or conclusion of law may waive the right to challenge the district court's adoption of that finding or conclusion on appeal.
2. A party may not directly appeal the Report and Recommendation to the Eleventh Circuit; an appeal may be taken only from a final judgment.

KEY QUOTATIONS

“A party may not appeal this Report and Recommendation directly to the United States Court of Appeals for the Eleventh Circuit. Appeals may be made only from a final judgment.” (unpaginated)

FACTUAL BACKGROUND

The opinion contains no substantive factual findings about the underlying dispute. It addresses only the procedure for objecting to a magistrate judge's Report and Recommendation and the consequences of failing to object.

PROCEDURAL HISTORY

The matter was before United States Magistrate Judge Brian K. for a Report and Recommendation. The order directed that objections be filed by March 6, 2026, and that the Report and Recommendation and any objections be submitted to District Judge J. Randal Hall on March 9, 2026.
